Seminar on Plagiarism - A Practical Approach

Date – 25th July 2018
Time - 10.00 am to 1:00 pm
Venue- MES Auditorium
Speaker – Dr. S.B. Kishor

MES IMCC conducted a seminar on Plagiarism - A Practical Approach on 25th July 2018 in MES Auditorium.

Plagiarism is when an author uses another person's idea and disseminates it as if it's his or her own idea. It is a form of academic dishonesty and a grave intellectual offense.

In research writing, avoiding plagiarism is important because once you submit a paper that is flagged as plagiarized, it will cost you significantly. For students, this could mean a failing grade, and for professional researchers, this could adversely affect their reputation and credibility.
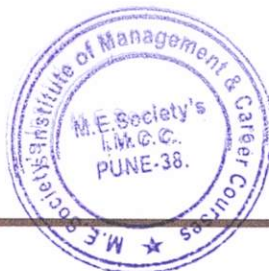

Dr. S.B. Kishor sir discussed the meaning and importance of plagiarism in research and academic writing. He stated the meaning of citation, how citation should be written and different citation styles. 50 Students participated in the session.

Short Profile -

Adv. Chandrakant Yeshwant Shinde has completed LLB and LLM from Savitribai Phule Pune University. He received his Sanad on 15th December, 1994. He has been a practicing Advocate since 1994(civil and criminal side). He teaches law related subjects for courses like D.T.L.,M.B.A.,M.P.M.

MES IMCC conducted a seminar on Benefits Of Filing Patent Over Publication for Academic Researchers on 19ᵗʰ January 2019 in MES Auditorium.

Securing a patent blocks other people from using, making or selling your intellectual property without your consent.

Patents can be awarded to a process, a device, an innovative use of an existing material, or an enhancement on an existing technology, as long as it can be demonstrated to be innovative, suitable, and not obvious to the person proficient in the field as per the Indian Patent law.

Sir concluded the session by highlighting the fact that before beginning research one has to determine if one is seeking for good publication or seeking for a patent because both processes are different. 64 students attended the session.

Attendance report is attached herewith.

Seminar on Report Writing Using Latex

Date – 23rd February 2019
Time - 10.00 am to 4:00 pm
Venue- MES Auditorium
Speaker – Dr. Manish Joshi

MES IMCC conducted a seminar on Report writing using latex on 23rd February 2019 in MES Auditorium.

Nowadays documents like project reports, scientific publications are becoming more and more complex with intricate formatting, cross referencing, large number of pages, chapters with multiple illustrations and so on. Creating and managing such documents in commercially available word processing software becomes a challenge, resulting in large file size, formatting getting disturbed and many of the times the word processing software crashing and eventually the data file getting corrupted.

To avoid such situations, a scientific approach should be adopted for preparation of the documents. LaTex offers an excellent platform for such scientific document creation.

Sr. No.	Session	Time	Topics Covered
1	Session 1	10 am to 12.30 pm	Introduction to Latex,
2	Session 2	1.30 pm to 3.30 pm	Writing report using Latex

The lecture started with basics and gradually moved to more advanced topics like the math mode, array and equations, etc. and ended with a brief on class files.

Research: Do it Intelligently using tools

Research is an important task of creativity and innovation. Researchers come up with new ideas, observations, solutions for research problems. However, such expected research outcomes do not come at once. No research activity can be successful unless a systematic approach is practiced with dedicated hard work is at the core of it.

Various phases that comprise research activity involves finalization of research problem statement, extensive literature survey, experimentation, writing, reference management, publish and present etc. Although all these activities are significant, a researcher cannot afford spending lot of energy and time in these phases. Spending more energy in these tasks will leave researcher exhausted and moreover researcher cannot concentrate effectively on seeking innovative solutions.

Advancements in Information Technology and research in Natural Language Processing have come to rescue researchers. Several tools are available that will help researchers in their day to day back-end task of research pre-processing, research documentation, research presentation. In this talk, I will introduce some of these tools that will make your research life easier and that ultimately will lead to better, effective research solutions.
